Fads and Fancies in Realm of Fashion

(By Margaret Mason, written for the United Press.)

New York, April 21.—When you stand in the midst of your garden, whether it be a sunken Italian one or a raised window box, do you want to look the fairest flower of the lot?

If you do, it's very simple, Maud. All you need is a smock of becoming hue, a wide floppy straw hat and one of those fascinating garden baskets raised on a long, wicker stick.

All you zinnias, gladiolas, begonias and canna's will simply droop their heads in the face of such a ravishing combination.

Surely Maud Muller must have been thus attired when her judge lingered a bit ere he rode by. Most any good judge nowadays would do the same.

Beginning at the top the crowning glory of the garden outfit is the hat; and its only essentials are that it be big, floppy and becoming.

Those of the cane chair seat weave are smart, bound in a color to match your smock, with a twist of the same around the crown. Peanut straws; leg-horns, panamas and loose grass woven hats are all lovely; and wide brimmed ones covered in flowered cretonne or awning stripes to match your skirt also are good.

If you want to go in for Oriental gardening the artistic Coolie hats are perfect, but if you top yourself off thus you will have to taboo the smock and awning stripe skirt, for garments modeled after a Chinese woman's coat and skirt. Otherwise your outfit would not be in perfect accord according to aesthetic Mabel. These Chinese effects really are the very newest spring crop of gardening gear and most original.

The awning stripe skirts this season are not only the broad stripes of a bright color alternating with white, like we had last year, but revel in a riotous array of colored stripes in four or five hectic hues, like a basket ballet. They all are very short and full and button down the front with either yawning slashed pockets set in either side or puffy pouched ones set on.

The artistic willow baskets set on their long sticks come in either natural coloring or may be stained to suit. They contain of course the most fascinating collection of gardening tools; a trowel whose handle is gay with paint, a pair of shears and your garden gloves.

Adorable watering pots blooming with hand-painted nosegays, and rakes with well decorated handles are a few other indispensable accessories of the fashionable garden.

Oh yes, and there are quaint and practical garden aprons too, the best model of which are the newest, is of striped material bound in a plain color with a bib and straps over the shoulders.

It is long so that you may stoop in the wet grass without dampening your skirt of your ardor and yet at will it buttons up to a desirable shortness and by this act turns itself into a capacious pocket.

Night Pencil Has Electric Light.

An electrically lighted lead pencil that will permit its user to write legibly in the heart of the darkest Egyptian night has been invented by an eastern man. It is made on the principle of the vest pocket electric light and resembles the case of a fountain pen. Clamped to the end is a framework which supports a piece of lead. The light is thrown directly upon the paper and centers at the tip of the pencil.

Light on His Trouble.

One dark night three friends were crossing a deep, dry ravine, the banks of which were very precipitous. As he party had been imbibing a little too freely, one of the three had to be assisted up the incline. When, thinking him safe at the top, his friends turned him loose, he fell to the bottom. He lay very still, and the other two, supposing him severely injured, rushed down to him. As they leaned over to discover his condition, the alien one exclaimed: "For God's sake, strike a match! I think I'm unconscious!"—Everybody's Magazine.

BANK SEEKS MONEY ON WARRANTS

Suit was filed today, through its attorneys, Riddle and Hammerly, by the National Bank of Verden vs. School District No. 130, of Grady county, Oklahoma, in which the petitioner seeks to recover the sum of $1,259.16, together with interest thereon from date of filing until paid at the rate of 6 per cent and all court costs, which have heretofore or shall hereafter accrue.

Plaintiff, for its cause of action sets forth that on February 26, 1915, the officers of the school district, No. 130, issued its warrant No. 59, in the sum of $60 to W. H. McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 60, in the sum of $50, to Gertrude McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 61, in the sum of $55, to Margaret Heiler; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 62, in the sum of $55, to Margaret Heiler; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 63, in the sum of $25, to J. C. Garey; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 63A, in the sum of $1, to Mr. Neelie; that these warrants were properly endorsed by their holders and delivered to plaintiff, all on March 15, 1915, with the exception of warrant No. 63A, which was endorsed and delivered to plaintiff on May 13, 1915.

Plaintiff further alleges that on March 24, 1915, the school district, through its officers issued its warrant No. 64, in the sum of $100 to M. H. Shepard; that on the same date the school district issued its warrant No. 65, in the sum of $60, to Zelina Shepard; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 66, in the sum of $60 to W. J. McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 67, in the sum of $55 to Margaret Heiler; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 70, in the sum of $25 to J. C. Garey.

Plaintiff further alleges that on April 23, 1915, the district issued its warrant, No. 71, in the sum of $100 to M. H. Shepard; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 72, in the sum of $60 to Zelina Shepard; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 73, in the sum of $60 to J. W. McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 74, in the sum of $50 to Gertrude McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 75, in the sum of $55 to Margaret Heiler; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 77, in the sum of $25 to J. C. Garey; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 78, in the sum of $61.50, to the Chickasha Milling company; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 79, in the sum of $7.15 to the Verden Hardware company; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 80, in the sum of $8.35 to L. K. Mankoff.

Plaintiff further alleges that on May 14, 1915, the district, through its officers, issued its warrant No. 82, in the sum of $75, to M. H. Shepard; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 83, in the sum of $45, to W. J. McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 86, in the sum of $27.50, to Gertrude McGraham; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 88, in the sum of $41.25 to Margaret Heiler; that on the same date the district issued its warrant No. 89, in the sum of $18.75 to J. C. Garey; that on June 8, 1915, the district issued its warrant No. 90, in the sum of $15.50, to the Verden Telephone company.

Plaintiff further alleges that all of the warrants enumerated in the petition were issued in compliance with the provisions of the laws of the state and that they were all drawn on the general fund of the defendant school district No. 130 and were all within the limits of the regular estimate made by the defendant district and submitted to the board of county commissioners for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915.

Plaintiff alleges that although the warrants have been repeatedly presented to the county treasurer and payment demanded, the treasurer has continued to refuse payment upon them alleging "insufficient funds belonging to the said defendant." Wherefore plaintiff seeks to recover in the sum total above set forth.

WHO KNOWS?

The emperor clad in his ermine.
With hand clinching up toward the sky.
He finds it not hard to determine
The patriot's duty to die.
So the emperor speaks and the emperor shrieks
His imperial will, or his won't.
But the man in the trenches—
A stench amid stench—
Knows something that emperors don't.

The philosopher sits in his study
And writes economical lore,
And that which was turgid and muddy
Is lucid as never before.
The philosopher reasons as sure as the seasons.
And cites you by that and by this,
But the man who must borrow
His payroll tomorrow
Knows something philosophers miss.

The minister talks to his people
And tells them commandments and laws;
As plain as the bell in his steeple,
He reasons on sin and its cause.
And the minister preys (like the organist plays)
And the minister urgently pleads,
But the girl who is working
At five-dollar clerking,
Knows something that's not in the creeds.

Yes, rulers and writers and preachers,
We think, but how much do we feel?
Yes, judges and talkers and teachers,
We talk, but we cannot reveal.
We read and we write and we judge
And we cite,
And prescribe for the world and its woe,
But the man at the dead-line,
And he in the bread-line,
Say nothing at all—but they know.

Top Price for Serial.

The largest price ever paid by an American magazine for serial rights in a book was $50,000, given by the Century company to Nicolas and Hay for their famous "Life of Lincoln." It is said that the editor of the Century, who first offered $25,000 and then doubled the bid, probably misread the exchange of glances between the authors when the first offer was made they being surprised at the bigness of the first sum, which he in his eagerness immediately doubled.

Why is Easter
THE DAY FOR NEW CLOTHES?

New clothing seems to be necessary now-a-days to complete the celebration of Easter.

And quite naturally so. Spring is bringing in her new mantle for the earth, the trees and flowers, and even new coats for many animals.

We instinctively feel the change, desiring likewise to throw off our Winter raiment and garb ourselves in new and pleasing colors.

That we appoint Easter for the day is merely coincidence. Did it fall at some other time there would still be one day in early Spring utilized as a general festival for putting on the new Spring garb.
